

Auriculotherapy:

Powerful protocols that work

A practical weekend workshop with Jim Chalmers.

Enhance your clinical skills by learning simple but powerful techniques and effective protocols for treatments, point selection and accurate point location for use immediately in your clinic.

Sydney

Australasian College of Natural Therapies
8th and 9th October 2011
9.30am - 5.30pm

Brisbane

Endeavour College of Natural Health
15th and 16th October 2011
9.30am - 5.30pm

Seminar is open for all TCM qualified practitioners and final year students.

Seminar Content

- A brief history of Ear Acupuncture: the original discoveries of French Physician Paul Nogier and subsequent diverse approaches by other European and Chinese practitioners.
- Anatomy and Enervation of the Ear.
- Types of Points.
- Techniques to locate active points including how to recognize the Pulse Quality known as the VAS (the autonomic response of the pulse to active auricular points and more).
- Prioritisation of point selection.
- Muscular Skeletal treatments.
- Zang/Fu treatments.
- How to Clear of Blockages to Healing caused by:
 - Toxic Scars.
 - First Rib Syndrome.
 - Disharmony between Right and Left Hemispheres of the brain (Dyslaterality).
- Psycho-Emotional Blockages.
- The Treatment of Psycho-Emotional Disorders including PTSD, ASD, OCD, Anxiety Depression, Panic Attacks and more.

Introduction

"This seminar provides an introduction to the system of Auriculotherapy discovered and developed by the French physician Paul Nogier. It is the original system of auricular acupuncture that allows a communication via the pulse to facilitate a diagnosis and treatment.

It is that intimate link between the practitioner listening to the pulse with his/her fingertips whilst seeking active points on the ear that presents, even facilitates, opportunities to explore deeper origins of a patients condition.

The integration of these techniques and approaches into the TCM paradigm provides the practitioner with powerful new tools to address old problems."

"Auriculotherapy is transformative. It allows your patients to heal, not just physically but emotionally and spiritually. It facilitates change.”

Each Stage of learning will be reinforced with hands on practice; attendees will be expected to share treatments, treat each other and be treated by others.

Copious notes, references and charts will be provided at the seminar.

Emphasis is on practical hands-on work. For this reason places are limited. Book early to avoid disappointment.

Prices

Super Early Bird Offer 300.00 AuD
(Book before 10th August 2011)

Early Bird Offer 350.00 AuD
(Book before 3rd September 2011)

After 3rd September 2011 400.00 AuD

Final year student discount 10% on above prices.

Book now:

Visit <http://auriculotherapy.info/seminars>

Enquiries to seminars@auriculotherapy.info

Cancellation Policy

Cancellations must be in writing (email) up to 14 days before seminar otherwise fee is non-refundable.

Full refund less 20% administration fee.

Organisers reserve the right to cancel either or both seminars if insufficient bookings. All payments will be returned in full in the event of any cancellation by the organisers. One month's notice of confirmation that the seminar is going ahead will be emailed to each applicant.

About Jim Chalmers

Past Vice President and Past Member of the Board of AACMA

Past Chair of AACMA Standing Committee for Continuing Professional Education

Represented AACMA as head of delegation to China at the invitation of the Zhejiang TCM Bureau and helped establish academic exchanges between Zhejiang and Australia.1998.

Keynote speaker at Australasian Acupuncture & Chinese Medicine Annual Conference 2007.

Published article on Auricular Therapy in Journal of Chinese Medicine June 2007.

Creator and contributor to www.auriculotherapy.info, an information website for public and practitioner use.

Presented Auriculotherapy Training Workshops in Athens Greece 2011, Auckland New Zealand and Brisbane Australia 2010.

In preparation - manuscript for 'A Manual of Auriculotherapy for TCM practitioners'

22 years Clinical Experience having practiced in Australia, Singapore and Scotland.
For past 8 years Jim has been practicing in SW Scotland.